

UNDERSTAND YOUR SOUL PURPOSE

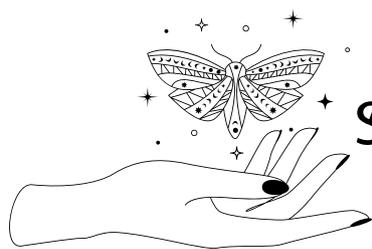

So many people are waking up right now. Confused and dazzled we look around and notice that something is just... off.

Work long hours at a soul less workplace, earn more money, buy material stuff, keeping up with the Joneses and rushing all day through the rat race is the norm.

And it's a norm that we now question. Is this really what life is all about? It sure can't be, right?

We are longing for something more, a larger sense of direction, and most of all PURPOSE.

But when it comes to finding and understanding your calling there seems to be a lot of misunderstandings that keeps people stuck. Let's bust through this misconceptions and embrace the most exhilarating search of them all - the journey back home to your true self and to your real Soul Purpose.

SOUL PURPOSE IS NOT SOMETHING THAT YOU DO

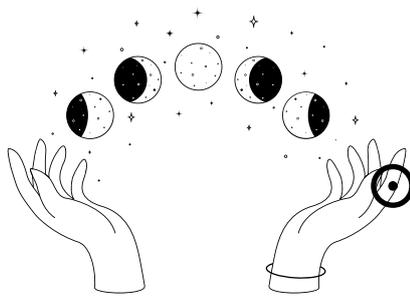

The society today is obsessed with DOING, and the action focus have slithered into the world of divine purpose.

When we think of Soul Purpose we think of working, doing and creating. The one and only career path.

But your Soul Purpose is the energy frequency of your true BEING, it is who you really are underneath the cloak of who you "should be".

Life Purpose isn't doing - it's BEING. It's LIVING.

This will absolutely lead you to your soul work, but your purpose is not tethered to a certain job or a certain business idea. Your purpose is a living, breathing boundless energy frequency.

YOU DON'T ONLY HAVE ONE PATH OR ONE MISSION

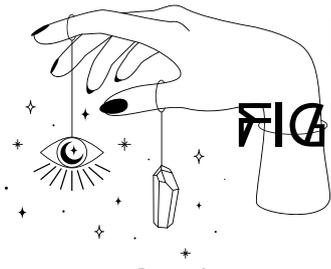

This misconception is connected to the believe that soul purpose is about doing, not being.

If you understand that your purpose is about finding and understanding your true essence, and embody that core force, you also understand that just having one mission is absolutely bonkers.

You have one Soul Purpose(=being), but many Soul Projects(=doing). And the projects, the physical manifestation of your Purpose will change and grow with you. What kind of work you do in alignment with Soul Purpose will change with the seasons of your life. ✨

That means that you, of course, can be multi passionate. You can be both the organized bossbabe in tailored suit and the barefoot boho artist at the same time - you can be everything your are and still live your one true Purpose.

WHEN YOU UNDERSTAND YOUR PURPOSE LIFE WILL NOT BE FIGURED OUT ONCE AND FOR ALL,

Omg, finding your Purpose is just the beginning, honey.

It's like when Harry Potter open the letter from Hogwarts ("Yer a Wizard Harry!") or when Rey understands that she has the force.

The adventure of LIVING your Purpose will be strenuous, scary, and more than often outside your comfort zone.

But it will also be magical, easeful, and like coming home.

It will be YOUR TRUE PATH and where your soul will thrive.

EVERYBODY HAS A SOUL PURPOSE

You are stardust, a soul having an human experience in this meat suit on a planet moving through space.

You are a fucking badass.

Before you came to Earth this time you decided what you where supposed to be and do with your time here.

Don't play small. Don't doubt. We ain't got time for that!

YOUR SOUL PURPOSE WILL NOT BE CRYSTAL CLEAR FROM THE START

"My Life Purpose will come to me, unicorns will sing, and I will understand my mission PERFECTLY."

Sorry babe, your Purpose will come to you in scattered pieces, in indescribable feelings, as a whispering light summer's breeze, or a tornado that will turn your life upside down.

You will not understand everything straight away, as Katniss had no idea what it meant to be the Mockingjay when she took her sister's place in the Hunger Games.

Your reality will be wrecked and weirder than usual, but at the same time, everything suddenly makes a little bit more sense.
